

NATIONAL END-OF-LIFE DOULA ALLIANCE (NEDA)

Who We Are

The National End-of-Life Doula Alliance (NEDA) is a non-profit membership organization that welcomes all trainers and practitioners and interested parties, regardless of background or level of experience, to help us aspire to the highest standards for practicing end-of-life doula professionals.

Our Mission

NEDA seeks to inspire positive, creative change in American death practices by offering the highest standard and ethical and practical guidelines, public education, and rich networking opportunities for all end-of-life (EOL) doulas who wish to provide meaningful experiences for the dying, their caregivers, and the agencies involved.

What Do End-of-Life Doulas Do?

End-of-life doulas provide non-medical, holistic support and comfort to the dying person and their family, which may include education and guidance as well as emotional, spiritual or practical care, as early as initial diagnosis through the bereavement period.
